Independent Organiztions Will Help Montreal Federation Drive

That the entire Jewish community is getting ready to support the "Save the Federation" drive of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, to take place October 22-26, is evidenced by the willingness with which independent organizations of Jewish men and women have come forward and offered their services during the week.

The Mount Royal Lodge of the Independent Order of Bnai Brith, at its first meeting of the current season, invited Rabbi Merritt and Mr. A. Z. Cohen to address them on the needs of the Federation and the plan of the present drive. Max Bernfeld, president of the lodge, stated that the Bnai B'rith would be solidly behind the drive. Messrs. Harry Benjamin and Simon Hopmyer were appointed joint chairmen of a committee of thirty members of the lodge, who will act as a team during the drive.

A special meeting of the Montreal District Zionist Council was called by the president, R. A. Darwin, to consider assisting the Federation drive. The entire meeting in a body volunteered to work for the campaign and a team was formed, headed by B. Perelmuter and Louis Miller. Rabbi J. L. Zlotnick offered his services to the campaign committee of the Federation and will do work at the headquarters.

The Young Men's Hebrew Association promises to make a 100 per cent. job of the work that is being given to them by the campaign committee. Alderman Louis Rubenstein will be chairman of the Y. M. group that will undertake the work. Messrs. Sol Kellert and Sam Robinson acting as vice-chairmen. Chas. Lambert promised that the Y.M.H.A. boys will do their share.

The chief conception that will be stressed in this campaign, the first since 1919, is that one contribution a year helps to support a dozen welfare organizations, including one orphanage, two hospitals, one home for the aged, and a relief organization. These five institutions take care of the major needs of the Jewish unfortunates of Montreal.

Special committees that will aid in the campaign are as follows: The Bnai Brith Committee—Harry Benjamin and Simon Hopmyer, joint chairmen; R. Althouse, L. Bloom, J. Cohen, L. Cohen, H. R. Cohen, L. Ellison, A. Gardner, S. Goodman, N. Grobstein, J. Guttman, S. B. Haltrecht, P. Hopmyer, J. Horn, B. H. Hyams, A. Kushner, A. Livingstone, P. Myerovitch, Max Notkin, A. Raginsky, M. Rubin, M. Scherer, M. Seigler, J. Shapiro, S. Shmerling, D. Shevmar, H. Simons, H. Vechsler and N. Waterman.

The Speakers' Committee is headed by Mr. A. Z. Cohen and comprises the following: Rabbi Julius Berger, H. M. Caiserman, N. S. Fineberg, A. H. Jassby, Rabbi M. J. Merritt, Marcus M. Sperber, K. C. and Rabbi E. A. Zlotnick.

The Young Men's Hebrew Association Committee is composed of the following: Sol. Kellert, Sam Robinson and Alderman Louis Rubenstein, chairmen; I. Adelman, E. E. Bender, M. Davis, D. Becker, J. Becker, J. Bessner, I. Diner, Dr. L. S. Eidinger, M. Feldman, S. Fleischman, B. Herman, J. Hornstein, L. Jason, H. Jones, M. Klassmer, M. Levitt, L. Liffshitz, S. Liffshitz, S. Litwin, I. Mendelsohn, L. Nickerson, H. Rosenberg, H. Rubin, D. Shalinsky, M. Silver, J. Steinhouse, D. Stern, I. Stobe, P. Wolofsky and S. Zackon.

Mr. Rupert Caplan, who has charge of the reorganization committee, will be assisted by Mrs. R. L. Stahl, and Mr. Louis Mulligan. The Community Players, who have for some years produced interesting plays, ended last season with a surplus of $750, which they have handed over to the reorganization committee. Although all the plans are still tentative, the group is planning to produce plays of the better kind only. They will be given in a small hall seating something like 150 or 200 people. Scenery, staging, etc., will be left to the members of the group. Admission to the performances, which will number four or five during the season, will be by invitation only.

The Musical and Dramatic Society, which held a meeting last Sunday in the Temple Emanu-El Hall, has started the season auspiciously. Over fifty people, both men and women, were present. The club, which holds its meeting on the second Sunday in each month, is increasing the roster of members, and a number of new recruits has been added to the ranks. An excellent musical program was provided at the last meeting. In the absence of the president, Miss Evelyn Shapiro, who has gone to New York, Miss Fannie Ratner presided. Rabbi Herman Abramowitz returned last week from New York City, where he attended the conference at which plans were decided upon for the coming campaign for one million dollars for the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York. Over five hundred delegates from all over America were present at the conference. Rabbi Abramowitz opened the meeting with prayer. Mr. Lyon Cohen accompanied Rabbi Abramowitz to the conference. Dr. Abramowitz will tour the United States for several weeks on behalf of the campaign. Among other cities he will visit Detroit, Rochester, Buffalo, Syracuse and Utica, N.Y. The campaign will be launched during the week of November 11 in the United States. In Canada, and in some parts of the United States, the date must be postponed unavoidably because of other drives of a local nature. The campaign in Canada, which will take place in December, in order not to conflict with the Federation drive, will be preceded by a Canadian conference similar to that which was held in New York. Representatives of the different Jewish communities throughout Canada will be invited to attend.

The Temple Players are rehearsing their new musical number which will be produced early in December. The play, which is called "The Spring Maid," is delightfully tuneful and colorful. It was written by Heinrich Reinhardt and the plot although slim, is dainty and clever. Mr. Rupert Caplan is directing the production and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Snyder are in charge of the musical numbers. Although all the parts have not been cast, it is more than likely that Mrs. Ezra Lozinski will take the part of Annamirol, the Spring Maid, and that Etta Pinsler will play Princess Bozana. Mrs. Aron is cast for Ursula. The following men are filling the important roles: Messrs. Sax, Jack Klein, Jack Chorney, Joe Glickman, Joe Horowitz, Carl Lewis, Melvin Levy.

With the Zionists in Canada

At the last meeting of the National Council of the Zionist Organization, held in Montreal, October 8, it was decided that the 19th Zionist Convention in Canada take place in Toronto, January 6, 1924. Dr. Chaim Weizman will come to Toronto to take part in this convention and bring a personal message to the Canadian Zionists and Canadian Jewry at large, and thanks to Canadian Zionists and Canadian Jewry for their work towards the rehabilitation of the Jewish homeland.

All the Zionist societies throughout the country and also individual pledgers of the Keren Hayesod must close their accounts with the Zionist Organization before the end of next November as on November 30 all the accounts will be closed and the amounts coming in later than the date mentioned will not be published or reported at the convention.

In Montreal, the greatest part of the work was carried on by the various Hadassah Chapters. The Toronto Council has been for the last year fortunate to enlist the valuable assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Dunkelman, who accomplished inestimable work for the Keren Hayesod. To Mr. S. Rogul, chairman of the National Fund Committee, are due thanks for the success of the National Fund in Toronto.

In Winnipeg, Mr. N. Schiffer is constantly at work for the different Zionist funds. He is supervising and conducting the work of the Keren Hayesod, National Fund, and the selling of the shares of the Jewish Colonial Trust. The group under the name of "Haboninr" are always to his assistance in collecting the pledges. The work of the National Fund in Canada was a great success during the last month Tishri, when a campaign for the redemption of 1,000 dunam of land in Palestine was proclaimed. Toronto has collected already $1,500.00 in cash, and in Winnipeg the campaign took place on the Day of Atonement when all the rabbis did their best to make the campaign a success. Rabbi Kahanovitch addressing seven synagogues and Rabbi Hurovitz addressing four synagogues in one day. The appeal of Rabbi Samuel at the Shaarey Zedek Synagogue brought in over $800.00. The total of pledges amounted to $2,500. Thanks are due to the chairman of the National Fund Committee, Mr. S. Bere, secretary, Mr. I. R. Sherebrin, Mr. Asovsky, Mr. Freedman, and also Rabbi Goldenberg. Full support was also given by the president of the Ezra Chapter of Hadassah, Mrs. Dr. M. Rady, and

REVIEW JUNIOR SECTION

Dear Cousins:

Whatever is the matter with you all? It might be too much school . . . or too many errands . . . or too much elocution . . . or too much practising . . . but, somehow I don't think that it is any of those things that is keeping you all from writing to Cousin Judith and to me. I think it is just too much "putting-it-off-ness" . . . that's what I think! 'Course it is nice (ever so nice) to get letters from Cousin Abe, and Beano, M.P.A., E.C., and Fanny Fleming and all the other "stand-bys" . . . but we want to hear from all the silent partners in Vancouver and Winnipeg and every other town in Canada as well. Suppose you sit down this minute (before the little demons of "putting-it-off-ness" cast their spell upon you) and write a nice jolly chatty letter to us and to all the other cousins. What say? You know there will be prizes for the best original story, the best original poem and the most interesting letter contributed each month. Let's see what you can do! The rules are simple . . . Competitors must be under 15. Parents of contestants must be subscribers to the Review. An exception is made in the case of children who are living in orphanages or institutions of that kind.

All letters, jokes, poems, stories, riddles, etc., must be written on one side only of paper and should be addressed to Cousin Judith or Cousin David, Canadian Jewish Review, 510 Bay Street, Toronto. Here's expecting to hear from you and soon.

COUSIN DAVID.

Dear Boys and Girls:

I don't know how many of you are lucky enough to get away into the woods but I do know that the trees are gorgeously beautiful in their autumn raiment—so beautiful that I wish I could chase my walks and you know what a "go" he is with you. Then you would have your walks and your "goes" with me—and we would all of us be so very much richer. To get back to those "goes." Unless you know what they are, only you don't know that you know. I'm sure that most of you have some favorite place that you visited by bus, or street car, that you "go" to once, twice, many times, to others. It might be a park, or an art shop, or a museum, or the theatre or [illegible] things. [illegible] your favorite [illegible]. Say?

To get back to Cousin [illegible] I'm going to suggest some [illegible]. Perhaps [illegible] woods. [illegible] where [illegible] watch [illegible] Next [illegible] your [illegible] pass it [illegible] looks. [illegible] believe it is the [illegible] during the [illegible] and [illegible] dresses. INTERMARRIAGE

If we believed in spiritualism and the feasibility of intercommunication between the spirit world and our own, we would be very much perturbed for the sake of the soul of Jacob H. Schiff, who died four years ago. We would feel that his reading of the announcement of the forthcoming wedding of his grandchild, the daughter of his only son, Mortimer L. Schiff, was causing his spirit severe pain.

It would have undoubtedly broken the heart of Jacob H. Schiff if he had lived to see his granddaughter marry a non-Jew, for he was above all a "Jewish" Jew who loved his people and strove for their survival. He who had done so much to stem the tide of assimilation would have had to witness his own offspring go the way which leads to Jewish annihilation.

What seems the unkindest cut of all is the announcement that the wedding ceremony is to take place in the home of the bride's parents and to be performed by a Bishop Coadjutor of the Protestant Church. Unfortunately we are getting accustomed to intermarriages between Jew and Christian. The number of such cases is increasing at an alarming rate. The best as well as the humblest of Jewish families are exposed to it. What puzzles us is why couples who choose to intermarry insist so frequently on adding insult to injury by having their marriage solemnized by a minister of religion, when neither the bride nor groom is converted to the other's religion. But even if there were conversion, we cannot help but see the hollow mockery of all conversions on one or the other of the contracting parties where the motive of marriage is generally insincere and other means prove ineffective. There are exceptions to this generalization, but they are the exceptions which prove the rule. Why should conversion be impossible to wipe away the impress of centuries of martyrdom for a mere formal lip conversion. Why should Jewish tradition permit a person of Jewish descent "turns" for the purpose of intermarriage.

The Jewish law does not sanction conversion under [illegible] conversion, strict at all events. The Jewish law permits of [illegible] can prove that he desires to [illegible] his own free will without [illegible] conviction, and a love for [illegible] Rabbi is commanded to [illegible] only after all [illegible] In the event that a Jew and [illegible] genuinely wishes to [illegible] have the ceremony performed [illegible] minister, clergyman or Rabbi [illegible] religion whilst they are [illegible] religions. We can conceive of no greater form of hypocrisy and impudence. It has even been our experience that couples of this kind seek the services of both priest and rabbi in order to satisfy both the families of the bride and groom. When questioned about it, couples have often said, "So far as we are concerned, we don't care, but it is for our parents' sake." Such couples should be told that it is not the parents who are being married but they, and since they do not care, why bother about a religious ceremony?

In the United States, where a civil form of solemnizing marriage is recognized, it is not necessary for couples who intermarry to go through the hypocrisy of a religious ceremony. In Canada, however, where the law makes no provision for a civil form of marriage, the law should be amended so that people of different religions desiring to intermarry, or people who do not believe in formal religion, should be able to have their marriage solemnized by some designated civil authority. Otherwise the religious ceremony becomes in cases of intermarriage a mere sham and meaningless form. It is not fair to ministers of religion to ask them to endure the humiliation of solemnizing the marriages of people who are intermarrying without sincere conversion, or who have no use for religion. It is even worse than unfair to ask couples of this kind in the most sacred moment of their lives to be compelled to endure a ceremony which in their heart of hearts they do not sincerely believe in.

In the forthcoming marriage of Miss Schiff there is revealed the great tragedy of Jewish life in America. Here prosperity and freedom are the dangerous solvents in which many of our Jewish people are slowly but surely melting away. The reasons are not far to seek. Jewish young men and women now mingle freely with young people of the Christian faith. What is more natural than that they should fall in love? Most of our young people grow up ignorant of the true meaning of Judaism. They have no knowledge of Jewish ideals and culture. "Noblesse oblige" and racial pride do not play important roles in their lives. This can in a sense also be said of the Christian youth whose knowledge of Christianity is as meaningless to him as the Jews' knowledge of Judaism. Neither, therefore, possess enough religious idealism to be willing to make a real sacrifice for it. The passion of love seems stronger than the ties of religion and intermarriage eventuates.

The case of Jacob H. Schiff's granddaughter is not atypical—would to God that it were. We believe hers is a love match. Yet there are Jews who intermarry for social reasons and who believe that thereby they can win their way into Christian circles. They are deliberate renegades from their ancestral faith.

The solemnization of Miss Schiff's marriage by a Protestant clergyman, we feel, implies that she means to cut herself loose from Judaism and accept the religion of her husband. To us this is another indication that two generations suffice for the process of complete amalgamation to work itself out.

In its opposition to intermarriage, Judaism is not alone. The Catholic Church, the Anglican Church and other Protestant denominations have also set their faces against intermarriage. If this be narrowness, then the narrowness is not all on our part. With the Jew, however, the opposition to intermarriage is not one of race superiority but of race continuity. For us, intermarriage spells ultimate extinction. This has been the universal Jewish experience. Our uncompromising will to survive is not motivated by a sheer desire to be different, or to hold ourselves aloof with a sense of arrogant pride in our superiority. It springs rather from a deep faith and strong conviction in our powers for good which are as yet unspent. We feel that Israel has not merely been a force which made for righteousness in the past, but is still able to make great spiritual and ethical contributions in the future. We wish to continue to live for this reason.

There is, however, only one solution that we can see which will reduce intermarriage, and it is, that our Jewish youth be brought up with a deep conviction that Judaism and "noblesse oblige" are worth while. Unless we can make our youth feel through intensive Jewish education that the ideals of Judaism are decidedly worth while and deserving for that reason of the highest sacrifice they can bring, intermarriage is bound to increase. It is evident that Jacob H. Schiff, who gave away millions for Jewish charity and only thousands for Jewish education, failed to rear his own son with that conviction. He in turn failed to transmit that feeling of loyalty to his daughter and when the moment came for the supreme test, she too failed.

There is a tragic moral in this story which Jewish parents might well take to heart.

"How many ways can family wash be done?"

Sometimes people get the idea that because we talk so much in these little ads about "semi-finished" laundry, that we do nothing else. It is true that we do nothing except "family wash," but we have always done it in as many ways as are possible. You may choose from the following: Damp, 5c lb.; Damp, with flat work ironed, 8c lb.; Dry, 7c lb.; Dry, flat work ironed, 10c lb.; and our specialty, semi-finished," 11c lb. The smallest charge per wash, $1.00. Phone for our driver.

FEDERATION OF COMMUNITY SERVICE

With headquarters opened in the St. Charles Hotel, corner Bay and Richmond Streets, and about 2,500 volunteer workers ready to achieve success, the Federation of Community Service is prepared for its big three-day drive next week on behalf of 48 worthy organizations in Toronto which look after the sick, needy and out-of-works. The amount asked for last year was $500,000 but as a result of the service which the Federation has been able to perform and the economics effected in the carrying on of charitable and philanthropic work, the budget estimated for the coming year has been reduced so that only $450,000 is being asked for in the forthcoming campaign.

The headquarters' rooms have been generously donated for the use of the Federation by Mr. W. T. Kernahan, and already some large contributions have begun to come in. Among them the F. W. Woolworth Company has, through Mr. Ralph Connable, made a contribution of $3,000, which is an increase of $500 over the company's gift in 1922. Mr. A. R. Auld, chairman of the committee on special subscriptions, states that there is a readier response among the large business men to assist with time and money this year than there has ever been. They apparently recognize that by having "One campaign, one appeal, once a year," conducted by one federation of some forty-eight different societies, organizations and institutions, the public is spared the trouble and overlapping calls such as was experienced when each organization made its own appeal.

Rabbi Brickner is among the leaders of thought in Toronto who have most strongly endorsed and supported the Federation. He and other prominent figures of his race have unreservedly joined in helping along a work which is humanitarian in every respect and which takes the note of sorrow at speed so long as distress or need exists. The Federation has many of the most prominent men and women in the city on its executive and its committees, among whom are the Lieutenant-Governor, the Mayor, Judges, Aldermen and outstanding business and professional men.

Dame Margaret Lloyd George had nothing to say to Toronto Jews that would move mountains or shake souls. In fact, we are told that she said so little it will not be found this week in a column of its own, being beyond even the power of the race of writers whose talent for remembering so often exceeds what the interviewed actually say. The reason this woman had nothing cataclysmic at her tongue's end is that she is a plain person, similar to millions of others who are far more interested in their immediate family life than in the great world currents about them. The simple things Dame Lloyd George did say remind one of those that fell from the lips of John D. Rockefeller once when he was being interviewed on board train. He had nothing to say on the subjects smaller men have ready for the press, but satisfied the reporter with the remark that "Those are fine Holstein cows over there." However, his attention and courtesy were as unfailing as though he conversed with the mighty. So was the manner of Dame Lloyd George. These people are exactly like the rest of us except that, unlike many, they live above affectation or presumption, unostentatiously and naturally, regarding every fellow-human as just that with or without the trimmings of pomp and power. This explains why Dame Lloyd George kept hundreds of people waiting, among them representatives of the other Canadian papers and magazines while she remembered that she had promised an interview to a reporter from the CANADIAN JEWISH REVIEW. Then, kindly and unhurried, she gave her greeting to you all.

It occurs to us this Friday to wander over to the moral support of Toronto shochetim with the remark that what Mark Twain said of the Jew in general applies to these same shochetim in particular.

Now if, by the grace of God, we had chosen to be a shochet by profession, we should try to remember daily how indispensable we were to other Jews in a city so strong in orthodox observance as is Toronto. On this sort of Coué-ism we might, ere long, gather up enough courage to ask for two cents a pound on the meat we killed instead of one cent. The extra few cents a week to every family would make little difference to it but would mean to us the difference between a dignified, independent existence and the measly life of an underpaid man. It would render us free of handkerchief collections and establish our right as a worker to give our families as decent a living and education as that of the average family which buys the meat we kill.

Not being a shochet and therefore denied the privilege of striking for more money, the best we can do is to urge the shochetim to buck up and see how much people can get when they once start asking. If we can be of help to them, we'll gladly donate a few typewriter ribbons and office space in this column. We'll also try to present gratis a few thousand words to the Toronto guinea-pigs who want to observe the dietary laws as cheaply as possible.

You remember that Mark Twain said the Jew was supposed because, like a horse, he doesn't know his own strength. So is the shochet.

JEWISH ORPHANAGE NEWS

The Women's Auxiliary of the Jewish Orphanage held a general meeting in the library of the home Monday afternoon, October 8. The President, Mrs. R. M. Frankfurter, occupied the chair.

Reports of the chairmen of the various committees were read, which showed the season's activities to be well under way. It was announced that Mrs. E. D. Mitchell had at a previous meeting been elected corresponding secretary in the place of Mrs. Jack Isaacs, who is not in the city. Hereafter only three public meetings a year will be held. Active members will hold their monthly meetings in the form of a luncheon, which will be open to the public.

Mrs. Shinoff, Mrs. B. Laxer and Miss Mollie Finesilver have organized a kindergarten class among the younger children of the home, with good results.

Mrs. M. H. Sharpe, Division Secretary of the Girl Guides of Winnipeg, and Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun, Commissioner of the Girl Guides of the city, were guests at this meeting, and the latter spoke on "Girl Guides and Guiding." A troupe from the home has been recently organized. Following this a social hour was held and tea was served.

The Girl's Auxiliary of the Jewish Orphanage held their first meeting of the season, Monday evening, October 8. The President, Miss Ruby Goldstine, occupied the chair. Previously $75.00 had been voted to be taken out of the Auxiliary Treasury to be spent on books, $25.00 of which has been spent on a complete set of the Book of Knowledge; $20.00 of the remaining money was voted to be spent on subscriptions to children's magazines, and the remainder is for books.

Plans were also made for the first social evening, which will take place in the auditorium of the home, Sunday, October 21, at which a program of dances will be supplied by Harry Stein's orchestra.

It was also decided to provide skates and boots for the older girls, who have outgrown their present ones.

THE SISTERHOOD OF THE SHAAREY ZEDEK CONGREGATION

The Sisterhood of the Shaarey Zedek Congregation held a successful meeting in the class-rooms of the Synagogue, Wednesday afternoon, October 10. About 75 ladies attended. The Chairman of the Sunday School committee stated that over 100 children attended the classes and a committee chosen from the Sisterhood were in attendance each week. Under the auspices of the Sisterhood the kiddies of the Sunday school were treated to a feast of goodies in the Succah at Succoth. Plans were made to hold a social evening at the Synagogue, Wednesday, October 24. Two large teams, under the captaincy of Mrs. L. Churchill and Mrs. P. Stephany, will again work in conjunction with the Federated Budget Board of Winnipeg. Last year a great many contributions were due to their efforts.

CONGREGATIONAL

HOLY BLOSSOM HEBREW CONGREGATION, BOND STREET

Sabbath Services

The regular Sabbath morning services, with choir, will be held on Saturday morning, October 20, at 10.15. Rabbi Brickner will preach.

Teachers' Training Group

Those interested in a religious teachers' training group are being organized by Rabbi Brickner to meet fortnightly. The teachers of the Holy Blossom congregational schools will form the nucleus of this group. Subjects of instruction will be "Child Psychology," "Principles and Methods of Religious Pedagogy," and "The Curriculum of the Sunday School."

This group is open to young people who have academic training and who are anxious to become Sabbath school teachers, or to young people who are already doing religious school work and who are anxious to secure a better knowledge of their subject. They may communicate with Rabbi Brickner, Hillcrest 5767, or by writing to 602 Lonsdale Road.

The Rabbi

The Rabbi requests members of the Congregation who may require his services for weddings and funerals not to make or announce dates until after having consulted with him. The Rabbi will be glad to call on the sick and the shut ins. Please inform him of sickness in your family.

Sisterhood Bridge

The Executive Committee of the Sisterhood begs to announce that the bridge, which was scheduled to take place on Tuesday, October 16, was postponed until Tuesday afternoon, October 23, owing to the funeral of Mr. Bernard Goldstein, which took place on Tuesday afternoon, October 16. All those holding tickets for October 16 are asked to attend on October 23. The bridge is open to non-members as well as members. Tickets may be obtained from the convenor, Mrs. Jule Allen, 58 St. Andrew's Gardens, Randolph 1143 or at the door on Tuesday afternoon. The Gift Shop will be open to all members and their friends on the afternoon of the bridge.

NOTES

On Wednesday, October 17, Rabbi Brickner delivered two addresses in St. Catharines, one at 4.15 before the Women's Canadian Club, which has a membership of over 600, and the other at 6.30 at the dinner of the Men's Canadian Club. The subject of Rabbi Brickner's address to the Women's Club was "The New Palestine," and before the Men's Club, "Needed, a New International Mind." Dr. Brickner was compelled to deliver two addresses owing to the fact that the clubs could not secure large enough quarters to accommodate all those who wished to attend.

Junior Society

A meeting of the Junior Society took place on October 14 in the Synagogue Chambers, Bond Street. Mr. E. F. Singer, Hon. Secretary of Holy Blossom Synagogue and superintendent of the religious school, delivered a very instructive address on anti-Semitism and the attitude which youth should take to it. He stressed the fact that the Jewish youth should always conduct itself as though its conduct was being carefully watched and that the misdeeds of the individual reflect on the whole people. A programme consisting of a recitation by Ruth Lavine, a piano solo by Naomi Granatstein, a dance by Beatrice Hutner, and several selections on stringed instruments by a quartet consisting of Messrs. N. Samuel, H. Bain, R. Breslin and A. Lief was presented.

The first dance of the society will be held on Saturday, November 10. The society also announce a musical evening at their next meeting, Sunday, November 4.

Zionist Delegation Greets Lloyd George

When Rabbi B. R. Brickner, of Holy Blossom Congregation, presented an address to the Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, in behalf of the Central Division of the Canadian Zionist Organization, he thanked the ex-premier for his work at the Versailles conference in making possible the granting of minority rights to the Jews in countries of Europe where they had been denied the elementary rights of free citizenship.

Rabbi Brickner, who was accompanied by Messrs. M. Gelber, D. Dunkelman and Dr. M. Schwartz, also said that Mr. Lloyd George had wielded a powerful pen against anti-Semitism and that the Balfour Declaration issued under his leadership was a charter of liberty to the Jews.

The speaker was presented to Mr. Lloyd George by Mayor Maguire in the mayor's chamber.

ANGLO-JEWISH CLUB

The committee of the Anglo-Jewish Club will be glad to hear of Jews from the British Isles desirous of becoming members of the Anglo-Jewish Club. The Club is a social one and has for its chief aim the bringing together of Jews from the British Isles.

Although the Club's activities have been of only a few weeks' duration, it has been the means of helping a considerable number of Jewish young men from England and Scotland.

The Club meets every Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the Zionist Institute, Beverley Street. It is proposed to run the Club on the same lines as the Jewish Men's Clubs in England.

The thanks of the committee are due to the Zionist Organization for placing a room at the disposal of the Club in their building.

Further particulars of the Club can be had from the president, S. Gillman, 140 Bellwoods Avenue (Trinity 8419W).

Jewish Educator Visits Toronto

A well-known Jewish educator visited Toronto this week in the person of Mrs. Ernest F. Franklin, of London.

The Hon. Mrs. Franklin is a daughter of the first Lord Swaythling and a sister of the Hon. Edwin Montagu, late Secretary of State for India. She has been honorary secretary of the Parents' National Educational Union since 1896. She has also been a member of the executive committee of the National Council of Women of Great Britain and Ireland, convenor of the International Sectional Committee of the National Council of Women and British representative on the educational committee of the International Council of Women. Mrs. Franklin has addressed meetings in Toronto, Montreal, Rome, Florence, Berlin, Paris, Stockholm, Christiania, Copenhagen, Edinburgh, Belfast, Dublin and London. Mrs. Franklin's educational work has been endorsed by Dr. Stephen Wise of the Free Synagogue of New York. She has occupied the pulpit in London on various occasions and is an outstanding figure in Liberal Judaism. She is also the author of many educational pamphlets and articles.

When seen by the CANADIAN JEWISH REVIEW, Mrs. Franklin wore a simple brown dress, a long string of jade beads and a brown hat that toned in with her costume. She walked with the aid of a cane and is a direct and friendly person with dark eyes that sparkle and light up her face. Mrs. Franklin dislikes talking for publication on any subject not in the sphere of educational propaganda but did say that, although Jewish women in England are keenly interested in politics and take part, there are none planning to enter the political field.

Asked what some of the vital problems are confronting the English Jews, Mrs. Franklin thoughtfully answered that they are the same met with by Canadian Jews.

"The English Jewish women," she said, "have taken up educational work since the war and haven't much time left for bridges and pink teas."

Mrs. Franklin smilingly declined to discuss the opportunities that await Jewish women because she intends to address the St. Louis Council of Jewish Women on that subject. In answer to a question, she said that she did not think there was a greater breach between Jewish parent and child than between non-Jewish. She advised parents to acquaint themselves with the training of character and to read the Parents' Review for help in that direction.

Mrs. Franklin said that she first became interested in the educational movement because of her own family of seven. She explained the Charlotte Mason method of teaching children, which works on the hypothesis that the love of knowledge is inherent in every child, but in ordinary schools the child loses its desire to learn and teachers are impelled to appeal to its desire to emulate or excel other children in order to attain the necessary information. There are no marks, prizes or homework. An examination is set at the end of the term. The children concentrate on their work because they know they will not have a second opportunity to go over it. "There is a tendency to discount the intelligence of children," said Mrs. Franklin. "The average child observes more than it is given credit for."

"Tell the Reform Jewish women of Toronto that they are most fortunate in having such an excellent synagogue. I hope they will soon be in possession of the new English prayer book by Rabbi Marcuck of the Liberal Synagogue of London. The prayer book is presented in a beautiful English liturgy."

the chairman of the Hadassah National Fund Committee, Mrs. Chas. Lyons.

At Hamilton a special committee was appointed to collect $1,000.00 for the land fund. The committee enjoys the assistance of the local Mizrachi, headed by Rabbi S. Levin.

Calgary collected $500.00, London, Ont., Regina, Sask., and Kamsack, Sask., over $200.00 each. The work in the smaller places may best be illustrated by a letter received from Mr. Dwoskin, of Bateman, Sask., where the local "Minion" assigned all the income of the Day of Atonment towards the land fund. Mr. Dwoskin apologizes that the income only amounts to $40.00 as the whole "Minion" consists of only eleven people, including four bar-mitzvah boys, and a number of farmers whose crops suffered greatly from the hail.

Montreal Zionists will soon be honored by a visit of one of the most prominent Zionist leaders, Mr. Louis Lipsky, chairman of the Zionist Organization in the United States of America, who was recently at the Zionist Congress in Carlsbad elected also as a member of the executive of the World Zionist Organization. Mr. Lipsky will arrive in Montreal on the 28th of October and will participate in the executive meeting on the 29th. On the 30th of October a mass meeting will take place at one of the largest theatres where an opportunity will be given to all the Jewish population of Montreal to hear a report of the last Congress and the message of this eminent Zionist worker and leader.

A Corner in an Orphans Home

The Wishes of Charitable Givers are being Rightly Met

THE child who is fatherless, the aged who are homeless, the crippled who are helpless, the hungry without food—these should be helped AND ARE BEING HELPED by you who graciously support the Community Service Campaign each year.

In the 5 Aged People's Organizations alone there is an average of 623 Old Men and Women of Toronto who are clothed, fed and cared for every day of the year by your support. The help to the children, to the future citizens, is well-nigh immeasurable, and approximately one-third of the Community Service Fund of Toronto goes to this appealing phase of the work.

At all times—every day, every night—the constant, unrelenting fight against disease, poverty, dirt and suffering goes on.

Yet all that is asked of you is your good will and liberality to this worthy cause. It's the opportunity, you must understand, to show your thanks for your blessings.

You will prevent misery, if you can. You will help these 48 charitable and benevolent institutions in the Community Service Campaign.

You will practise those qualities you know so well. Put them into this campaign. It will begin on October 23rd. Voluntary workers will seek your sympathy and support. Be ready for them. BE READY. And give liberally. Spread your payments over 12 months if you like. For your gift will help each institution in its great and good work in the interest and for the advantage of everyone in Toronto.
